What is Keyingham?

Keyingham is a medium-sized village in the East Riding of Yorkshire.

The nearest village is Ottringham, which is at the east side of the village and to the west of the village is a hamlet called Camerton.

The nearest city is nearly 10 miles west and is called Kingston Upon Hull. Many people travel into Hull to do their shopping and to access larger entertainment facilities, such as Cinemas, Ice Skating and large shopping centres (such as St Stephens and Princes Quay).

Keyingham is situated approximately 150 miles (240km) north of London.

What is in Keyingham?

In Keyingham, there is a primary school, which is called Keyingham Primary. There are 2 shops, 1 fishmonger, 1 car wash, 3 hairdressers, 1 sandwich shop, 2 fast food shops, 2 pubs and 2 doctors' surgeries. Many people in the village also use the village halls, the 2 churches and the Ski Pond.

History of the village

1km north-east from the village of Keyingham there used to be a possible Iron Age or Roman enclosure. There was also a medieval water spring located 1.6km west of the village, which is called St Philip's Well. Many people believed the well had miraculous powers.

In the 1086 Domesday Book, Keyingham is listed as having 31 households, 30 people who lived there, one priest and a church. In 1802, the village were given 200 shillings (which in today's money is £1.31) which was donated to the poor children who lived in the village to provide them with an education. The village was known as 'Kyingham' and 'Kayingham'.

The first church to be built in Keyingham was at the end of the 7th century and was positioned approximately where the present church is now. It is believed that it was initially built out of wood. The church also had its own priest and was located near the mill as it had fertile land that was surrounded with farmsteads.

By 1823, the population of the village was 639. Some of the occupations included, 8 farmers, 1 bricklayer, 2 blacksmiths, 2 wheelwrights, 4 grocers, 6 shoemakers, 2 tailors, 1 school master, 1 corn miller and 2 pub landlords (of The Blue Bell and The Gate). There were two carriers, that provided transport between Keyingham and Hull, but they only came twice a week.
